Denominational Research: What We Are Discovering About Ourselves

Speaker: Danny Baer

Description: This seminar will provide an in-depth look at the results from the surveys conducted by the Committee on Denominational Research that was formed at the National Association in 2019. We will discuss what is revealed in the data that have been gathered but also what implications can be derived from the results.

Preparing for the Next Financial Crisis

Speaker: John Brummitt

Description: No one really knows when a financial crisis will come. The key is to be prepared for it when it does come. Through proper financial planning, you and your ministry can be prepared to weather the next financial crisis.

Doctrine, Confessionalism, and Denominational Identity

(Commission for Theological Integrity)

Panelists: Kevin Hester, Rodney Holloman, Thomas Marberry, Eddie Moody, Jesse Owens, Matt Pinson, and Jackson Watts

The Challenge of FWB History

Speaker: Robert E. Picirilli

Description: Who are Free Will Baptists? This seminar will uncover some of the difficulties in answering that question and emphasize the importance of the FWB Historical Collection for understanding who we are. It will seek to enlist volunteer help in this quest.

Cultivating Intergenerational Relationships

Speakers: Ana Batts, Debe Taylor

Description: Every generation brings its own biases to a relationship. Understanding specific characteristics of each age group will facilitate better communication. Intergenerational communication forges relationships that enable the participants to thrive in the various seasons of life. God designed each of us to desire and pursue community. Cultivating such relationships allows us to be the hands and feet of Jesus where He has placed us.
