As for You

In James 1:25, we are encouraged not to be forgetful hearers. It is my prayer you will remember what you experience this week in Raleigh and put that into practice throughout the year.

In a world turned upside down, let us Continue in the Word by focusing upon and teaching Scripture no matter what happens around us. The world is discouraging; may we Encourage One Another in the Word by finding ways to support each other and to be good stewards of our ministries. We hope everyone will identify a pastor and his family to pray for. Maybe you could become part of a group that supports others.

May we Reach With the Word as the world comes to the doorsteps of North America. We encourage you to study and get to know your community and to reach people who are not currently being reached by other churches.

We also hope to Teach and Train in the Word. Could you train youth in Church Training Service, teach a Sunday School or Life Group, start an Awana Club, lead a D-Group, engage in marriage mentoring, start a women's ministry, or develop a ministry to widows or other hurting people at your church?

Lastly, may you Give Yourself as a Laborer to reach and train others in the gospel. What is God calling you to do? Are you called to be a missionary, pastor, or teacher? Are you called to start a group? Who are we called to reach with the gospel or train in the Christian faith, and what do we have to give?

I hope your time in Raleigh will be a special time and, as a result, we will work together to turn an upside-down world right side up by hearing the Word and doing the work (Acts 17:6).

Edward E. Moody, Jr., Ph.D.
Executive Secretary
